To the Editor of The Review-Advertiser, Clareholm, Alta.

Dear Sir—
 At the annual meeting of the ratepayers I had occasion to criticize an appropriation of $300.00 which had been made by the Town Council in payment of a Medical Health Officer for the year 1927, when no such appointment had been made by the Council. I wish to state why my attitude was critical.

1. Because I fail to see why the ratepayers of this town should be taxed to the extent of $300.00 for the services of a Medical Health Officer when no such appointment had been made by the Town Council for the year 1927, they being the only local body having the authority to make this appointment. I understand His Worship the Mayor presumes to say that he has the authority to make this appointment. I am free to say that no such authority has been delegated to any one man. This would be one man government with a vengeance, and Clareholm has already seen too much of this type of control and has paid for it too dearly out of the pockets of her tax-payers.

The law provides "that in the event of the council failing to make an appointment of a Medical Health Officer, then the Provincial Medical Officer of Health may, with the approval of the Lieutenant Governor in Council make the appointment and arrange the remuneration."

At the annual meeting of the ratepayers I asked the question "When and by whom was the appointment of a Medical Health Officer made for the year 1927?" and the Town Secretary's answer was "There really never has been any regular appointment made for this year."

I assume this answer was correct. It might be inferred from this answer that an irregular appointment had been made at some time in the year. However, there is absolutely no record on the minutes of any council meeting during the year to show that there had been any appointment made regular or irregular, or that any appointment which the Mayor had presumed to make had, as we been authorized to the Council for its approval, nor has it even been suggested that the Chairman of the Health and Welfare Committee had even been made aware of any such appointment.

A Medical Health Officer has not strictly been an Acting Health Officer when a bylaw moving his appointment has been defeated in the Council. This would surely be a violation of all laws of Representative Government. Hence, we are forced to conclude that Clareholm was without a Medical Health Officer for this year.

Yet in looking over the minutes of one of the late council meetings at which the Mayor and only three councillors were present, I find that on Motion of Mr. G. M. Godley, Chairman of the Finance Committee, and Seconded by Mr. O. L. Reinecke, Chairman of the Public Works Department, an appropriation of $300.00 was made and this amount has been paid out in payment of a Medical Health Officer when no such officer had ever been appointed. This is surely a case of high financing and I submit that this is playing free and easy with public funds.

It is the intention of the Council to subsidize every medical man in Clareholm to the extent of $300.00? If not, then surely the other medical men in Clareholm are being discriminated against.

2. Another criticism which I made at the annual meeting was this: that although no Medical Health Officer had been appointed by the Council for this year, yet as early in the year as February 25, 1927, the Town of Clareholm notified the Department of Public Health at Edmonton that Dr. J. S. Hynes was appointed Medical Health Officer at a salary of $300.00 a year, such salary to include the care of indigents within the town limits.

I would like to ask, who authorized this notification? Was this notification also irregular? If so, then certainly irregularities prevailed to a remarkable degree. My criticism was that in any event the notification was somewhat previous. The Mayor at the annual meeting strenuously denied that any such notification had ever been sent by the Town of Clareholm to the Department of Public Health at Edmonton. In view of the denial I am publishing an exact copy of the original notification sent by the Town of Clareholm to the Public Health Department at Edmonton on Feb. 25, 1927.

This notification form has been forwarded to me through the courtesy of the Department at Edmonton.

The Mayor's denial of such a notification having been sent can surely carry no weight in the light of this document. The notification speaks for itself.

3. Coming to the Medical Care of Town Indigents

In past years it has always been recognized that the remuneration of $300.00 to the Medical Health Officer was largely in return of medical services to the indigents of the town.

The Town Secretary has furnished me with a list of hospital bills that have been paid by the Town of Clareholm for the hospitalization of town indigents during the year 1927, and in every case with one single exception I have rendered the medical services to all these patients without receiving from the Town one dollar's remuneration.

As a practicing physician and as a ratepayer of the Town of Clareholm for fourteen years I repeat that the procedure carried out in this matter is so absolutely unfair that I fail to see how any man knowing the true facts of the case could be a party to such crude tactics, and in this case there is no excuse for ignorance for all the facts are readily available.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain
 Yours truly,
 A. G. McMillan.

Letter From the Department

The Town Milk Business

Mr. Editor—
 I presume the citizens, especially the milk consumers of the town, will be glad the producers have taken action to put the milk business on a more permanent and reliable footing to prevent the recurrence of such unpleasant and disturbing conditions as there were in the early part of the winter and throughout the summer, and indeed occasionally for some years past. A co-operative dairy should work out all right and give good, reliable and desirable service. As to prices, it is stated on good authority that had the individual monopoly plan prevailed consumers, instead of 11c would now be paying 12½c, which would mean quite an addition to the milk bill.

Citizen.

ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S QUESTIONS

372. What is the Chicago Board of Trade?

The most important grain exchange in the United States. Its transactions exert an important influence over the entire world. Traders are divided into two groups—those who bargain with each other for carloads of grain, samples of which are before them on tables; and those who buy and sell contracts for future delivery from the morning going into the triple clasp of the great belt at the close of the market, the evening quotations are chalked on the exchange blackboard, and are wired broadcast throughout the land by telegraph, by market bureaus and by the newspapers.

373. What are "Futures"?

Purchases or sales of futures constitute the life of the board. One trader buys and another sells a contract calling for delivery of, let us say, 5,000 bushels of grain before the last day of a specified month. If delivery month is December, it is December wheat, corn, oats or other grain, as the case may be; if contract specifies May delivery, it is a trade in May grain. The future takes its name from delivery month, not the harvest or month in which sale is made. Months of greatest trading are those in which grain of a harvest is most freely delivered—September and December for spring wheat; May and July for winter wheat; December, May and July for corn.

374. What is the "Pit"?

Traders in futures occupy pits, a series of steps raised in circular form, leaving a pit-like depression in center, from which name is derived. Thus traders standing on the different levels can see each other clearly and transact business in spite of the wild tumult. There are five pits—wheat, corn, oats, provisions, and rye and barley. The key that unlocks order out of the seeming confusion is the sign language. (Hand held vertically with palm held away from trader signals a desire to sell; palm toward trader a desire to buy. Each finger height indicates 5,000 bushels—four fingers and thumb would indicate 25,000 bushels.)

375. The Sign Language of the Pit?

The scene in the pit when trading is in full swing resembles pandemonium, with all arms in the air at once; yet millions of dollars' worth of grain changes hands on the motion of a finger, the quick ring of an arm. The sign language is simple and consists of eight motions covering fractional changes in price—hand held horizontally with clenched fist denotes an even price, as $1.25 a bushel; one finger extended, 1-8c; two fingers extended and spread apart, 1-4c; three fingers, 3-8c; four fingers, 1-2c; four fingers and thumb, 5-8c; four fingers and thumb extended but pressed together, 3-4c; hand clenched, thumb alone extended, 7-8c.

376. How to Picture a Typical Sale in the Pit?

Smith wants to buy 5,000 bu. May grain at $1.24 7/8; last sale posted on blackboard is $1.25. He extends his hand, fist closed, thumb extended, palm toward himself, and shouts his offer. His words may be lost in the volume of sound but his signal is seen by Johnson across the pit, who is willing to sell at that figure, and the signal answered. The buyer raises one finger vertically, indicating 5,000 bushels are wanted.

Foolish Saving

A penny saved is not always a penny earned. Sometimes it is two pennies lost. The merchant who spends nothing on advertising loses much more than he saves.

The money spent for plate glass windows is not looked on as lost; nor is the money spent on better interior lighting.

Anything that increases the favor, that adds sales, that multiplies customers is very properly regarded as a good investment. Advertising is a good investment—just as plate glass windows are. Advertising sells more goods to more persons than shop windows do.

The evening's program opened with a splendid banquet. Toasts were proposed at the end of the banquet. A toast to the King; toast to the Fellowship, proposed by A. Laurie, responded to by Rev. R. W. Dalgleish; toast to the Ladies, proposed by R. L. King, responded to by Mrs. W. Knight.

An excellent concert program was then carried through, including the following numbers:

377. How Much Paper Is Used in the United States?

It requires two cords of wood for every ton of paper. In 1925 American people used about 160 lbs. of paper per capita—each person using an average of a little more than his own weight. New uses for paper are constantly developing. The greatest consumer is the daily press, next the weekly magazines. Wrapping bags and food containers take hundreds of thousands of tons of pulp each year. 140 million people and a 160-th per capita consumption means 8,800,000 tons, yet only about 26 of total cut of timber and corded wood goes in to paper pulp, the bulk of the trees going for fuel, lumber, ties and fencing.

378. Where Does the Paper Come From?

Mostly from pulp of soft trees, such as spruce and balsam. Of the 3 million tons of newsprint consumed annually by American press three-fifths comes from Canada and other foreign countries. Few pulp mills in East and Middle West have over five years supply of pulp wood available. Half the available pulp wood of the U. S. is in Oregon, Washington and Alaska. Annual waste from present methods of logging and saving lumber amounts to 8 million cords. Why should this waste continue and good timber made into pulp? Some pulp and paper mills, using nothing but waste of saw mills, are in operation on the Pacific coast, others being built.
